The purpose of 'Fokus på ME' ('Focusing on ME') is to raise funds for biomedical research on ME in Norway, primarily at Haukeland Universitetssjukehus, Avdeling Kreftbehandling og medisinsk fysikk (The Department of Cancer Treatment and Medical Physics at the Haukeland University Hospital), by the research group led by Olav Mella and Øysteing Fluge. Focus på ME (Focusing on ME) also works to make spread knowledge about ME.

ME is one of the most debilitating diseases that we know of, but in spite of that the level of state funding going to research on this disease is very low. The reason that 'Focus på ME' (Focusing on ME) was founded in the first place was the hope that it would be possible to raise funds and contributing to the work of research.
